

Liora Pedhazur Schmelkin

Senior Vice Provost for Academic Affairs and Dean of Graduate Studies, Hofstra University

Liora Pedhazur Schmelkin joined the Provost's Office in 2003 and has been the Senior Vice Provost for Academic Affairs and Dean of Graduate Studies at Hofstra University since 2006. She also is the Leo A. Guthart Distinguished Professor of Teaching Excellence and a professor of psychology. Her areas of specialization include statistics, research design and measurement. Her current scholarly interests focus on the effective teaching of methodology courses, graduate education, academic integrity and faculty evaluation.

As a distinguished educator and scholar, Schmelkin has received multiple awards and recognitions (at the local and national level) for her teaching, scholarship, mentoring and service. Her co-authored textbook, Measurement, Design and Analysis: An Integrated Approach, is used internationally, and her other publications have appeared in such journals as Assessment & Evaluation in Higher Education, Journal of Higher Education and Research in Higher Education.

Schmelkin's professional activities and affiliations include being past President of Division 5 (Evaluation, Measurement & Statistics) of the American Psychological Association (APA) and past President of the Northeastern Educational Research Association. Her board and committee work includes serving as current Chair of the Educational Testing Service GRE® Board, and past membership on the Technical Advisory Committee for the GRE as well as the Board of Scientific Affairs of the APA. She also works with many Long Island, N.Y., school districts providing professional development for teachers and administrators on education and research issues.

Schmelkin earned her bachelor's degree in psychology and her master's degree and doctorate in educational psychology at New York University.